Pitchstone Exploration Ltd.

(An Exploration Stage Company)

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

September 30, 2007

(Unaudited)

1. Nature and Continuance of Operations

The Company was incorporated under the British Columbia Company Act on April 24, 2003. The Company is an exploration stage company and engaged principally in the acquisition and exploration of resource properties. The recovery of the Company's investment in its resource properties is dependent upon the discovery, development and sale of mineral products and the ability to raise sufficient capital to finance this activity. The ultimate outcome of this activity cannot presently be determined because they are contingent on future matters.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

a) Interim financial statements

These interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and follow the same accounting policies and methods of their application as the annual financial statements. These interim consolidated financial statements do not include in all respects the annual disclosure requirements of generally accepted accounting principles and should be read in conjunction with the most recent annual statements.

b) Basis of consolidation

These interim consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, the 50% joint venture with Uranium One Inc. ("Uranium One"), the 50% joint venture with Triex Minerals Corporation ("Triex), and the 37.5% joint venture with JCU (Canada) Exploration Company, Limited ("JCU").

c) Use of estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

d) Resource Properties and Deferred Exploration Expenditures

The Company is in the process of exploring its mineral properties and has not yet determined whether these properties contain ore reserves that are economically recoverable.

Mineral exploration costs are capitalized on an individual project basis until such time as an economic ore body is defined or the prospect is abandoned. Costs for a producing deposit are amortized on a unit-of-production method based on the estimated life of the ore reserves, while costs for the prospects abandoned are written-off.

The recoverability of the amount capitalized for the undeveloped mineral properties is dependent upon the determination of economically recoverable ore reserves, confirmation of the Company's interest in the underlying mineral claims, the ability to farm out its resource properties, the ability to obtain the necessary financing to complete their development and future profitable production or proceeds from the disposition thereof.

Title to mineral properties may involve inherent risks due to the difficulties of determining the validity of claims. The Company has investigated title to all of its mineral properties and, to the best of its knowledge, titles to all of its properties are in good standing.

e) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are highly liquid investments, such as term deposits with major financial institutions, having a maturity of 12 months or less at acquisition, that are readily convertible to contracted amounts of cash.

f) Environmental Expenditures and Assets Retirement Obligations

The operations of the Company have been, and may in the future, be affected from time to time in varying degree by changes in environmental regulations, including those for future reclamation and site restoration costs. Both the likelihood of new regulations and their overall effect upon the Company vary greatly and are not predictable. The Company's policy is to meet or, if possible, surpass standards set by relevant legislation, by application of technically proven and economically feasible measures.

Environmental expenditures that relate to ongoing environmental and reclamation programs are charged against earnings as incurred or capitalized and amortized depending on their future economic benefits. Estimated future reclamation and site restoration costs, when the ultimate liability is reasonably determinable, are charged against earnings over the estimated remaining life of the related business operation, net of expected recoveries.

g) Amortization

The Company provides for amortization on its fixed assets on a declining balance basis (one-half of the rate is taken in the year of acquisition).

Following are the amortization rates:

Computer equipment	30%
Office furniture	20%
Exploration equipment	30%
Computer software	100%

h) Income Taxes

The Company accounts for the future tax consequences of the differences in the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases using tax rates expected to apply when these temporary differences are settled. When the future realization of income tax assets does not meet the test of being more likely than not to occur, a valuation allowance in the amount of the potential future benefit is taken and no net assets are recognized. The Company has taken a valuation allowance against all potential tax assets.

i) Share Capital

- i) The proceeds from the exercise of stock options, warrants and escrow shares are recorded as share capital in the amount for which the option, warrant or escrow share enabled the holder to purchase a share in the Company.
- ii) Share capital issued for non-monetary consideration is recorded at an amount based on fair market value.

j) Flow-through shares

The Company may issue securities referred to as flow-through shares, whereby the investor may claim the tax deductions arising from the expenditure of the proceeds. When resource expenditures are renounced to the investors and the Company has reasonable assurance that the expenditures will be completed, a future income tax liability is recognized and share capital is reduced. Previously unrecognized tax assets may then offset this liability, which amount would then be included in income.

k) Stock-Based Compensation

The Company has a stock option plan as disclosed in Note 8. The Company has adopted the fair value method for stock-based compensation granted to employees, non-employees and for all direct awards of stock. The fair value of stock options is determined by the Black-Scholes Option Pricing Model with assumptions for risk-free interest rates, dividend yields, volatility factors of the expected market price of the Company's common shares and expected life of the options. The fair value of direct awards of stock is determined by the quoted market price of the Company's stock.

l) Earnings (Loss) per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. The computation of diluted earnings per share assumes the conversion, exercise or contingent issuance of securities only when such conversion, exercise or issuance would have a dilutive effect on earnings per share. The dilutive effect of convertible securities is reflected in diluted earnings per share by application of the "if converted" method. The dilutive effect of outstanding options and warrants and their equivalents is reflected in diluted earnings per share by application of the treasury stock method.

m) New Accounting Policies

Effective January 1, 2007, the Company adopted the new recommendations of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) Handbook Section 1530, Comprehensive Income; Section 3251, Equity; Section 3855, Financial Instruments - Recognition and Measurement; and Section 3865, Hedges, retroactively without restatement. These new Handbook Sections, which apply to fiscal years beginning on or after October 1, 2006, provide requirements for the recognition and measurement of financial instruments and on the use of hedge accounting. Section 1530 establishes standards for reporting and presenting comprehensive income, which is defined as the change in equity from transactions and other events from non-owner sources. Other comprehensive income refers to items recognized in comprehensive income that are excluded from net income calculated in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Under the new standards, policies followed for periods prior to the effective date generally are not reversed and therefore, the comparative figures have not been restated. The adoption of these Handbook Sections had no impact on opening deficit.

m) New Accounting Policies - Continued

Under Section 3855, financial instruments must be classified into one of the following five categories: held-for-trading, held-to-maturity, loans and receivables, available-for-sale financial assets or other financial liabilities. All financial instruments, including derivatives, are measured in the balance sheet at fair value except for loans and receivables, held-to-maturity investments and other financial liabilities which are measured at amortized cost. Subsequent measurement and changes in fair value will depend on their initial classification, as follows: held-for-trading financial assets are measured at fair value and changes in fair value are recognized in net income; available-for-sale financial instruments are measured at fair value with changes in fair value recorded in other comprehensive income until the investment is derecognized or impaired at which time the amounts would be recorded in net income.

Upon adoption of these new standards, the Company designated its cash and cash equivalents as held-for-trading, which are measured at fair value. Accounts receivable and income taxes receivable are classified as loans and receivables, which are measured at amortized cost. Accounts payable, accrued liabilities, due to/from related parties and joint venture partners are classified as other financial liabilities. The Company had neither available-for-sale, nor held-to-maturity instruments during the nine months ended September 30, 2007.

The Company had no "other comprehensive income or loss" transactions during the nine months ended September 30, 2007 and no opening or closing balances for accumulated other comprehensive income or loss.

3. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, due to/from related parties, and due to/from joint venture partners. Unless otherwise noted, it is management's opinion that the Company is not exposed to significant interest, currency or credit risks arising from the financial instruments. The fair value of these financial instruments approximates their carrying value due to their short-term maturity or capacity of prompt liquidation.

a. Athabasca Basin Properties, Saskatchewan - Uranium One Joint Venture

In January 2007, the Company and Uranium One, a TSX listed company, entered into a 50:50 joint venture to explore and develop the Athabasca Basin properties. Uranium One now holds the remaining 50% interest in the Darby, Waterfound, Moon Lake and Lynx Lake properties and 37.5%, or 50% of the Company's 75% interest, in the Candle property. The Company is the operator of the five joint venture properties.

In order to exercise its 50% option and to earn a 50% interest, Uranium One made total cash payments of $350,000 (the last payment of $87,500 was made on January 11, 2007), issued an aggregate of 200,000 common shares and 300,000 share purchase warrants, and funded $4,000,000 of aggregate exploration expenditures on the five Athabasca Basin properties. As a result of Uranium One funding $4,000,000 in exploration of the Athabasca Basin properties, it was deemed that the Company's 50% portion of the Athabasca Basin properties was also valued at $4,000,000.

The Company recognizes compensation expense for all stock options granted using the fair value based method of accounting. Total fair value of stock options vested during the nine months ended September 30, 2007 was $828,946 (2006: $72,384).

The following weighted average assumptions were used for the Black-Scholes method of valuation of stock options granted during the periods:

	2007	2006
Risk-free interest	4.08%	3.83 – 4.50%
Expected dividend yield	-	-
Expected stock price volatility	89%	78 – 94%
Expected option life in years	4	3

Option pricing models require the input of highly subjective assumptions including expected stock price volatility. Changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate and therefore the existing models do not necessarily provide a reliable single measure of the fair value of the Company's stock options.
